

The toiletgallery project
2003

Adopt your own loo
and make the world nice.

HIGH ART IN THE TOILET

It's your lucky day. You have just discovered one of the hippest galleries in the world. Yip, no longer will the public loo be a bland, boring place filled with nothing more than bad smells and embarrassing noises. Instead, you get to do your business in a lovingly curated art space! New works by up-and-coming artists will regularly take residence on these walls. The loo you'll want to comeback to.

FRESH ART!

Enjoy your stay.

Adopt a loo! Make the world better by adding some life to your local toilet.

This is a curated cubicle. The works on these walls have been placed here to help brighten your day, and perhaps, to remind you that there is a life beyond consumerism. And art smells good too.
